- 3. Employment Equity Update Jocelyn Churchill provided the LEC with an update on how this project is progressing at Loyalist, assuring members that the principals and practices recommended at the federal level for employment equity align well with Loyalists HR practices. She added that it is important for the college to maintain this status in order, amongst other things, to be able to bid on such projects as the summer cadet program.
  - the four main groups often under-represented in the work force nationally are women, aboriginals, visible minorities and workers with disabilities
  - the Employment Equity committee was quite happy with the response rate to the recent survey of college employees. The committee was hoping for an 80% response but achieved an overall 67% (75 to 78% of full-time employees responded).
  - Jocelyn noted some of the gaps that their analyses of the survey responses have identified, the biggest being in aboriginal representation
  - the E.E. committee would like feedback from Locals 420 & 421 on how we can work to make everyone benefit from the employment equity initiative
